FAIR USE POLICY

This Fair Use Policy is a part of TheBuzz's General Terms And Conditions and is intended to ensure that Customers do not use the TheBuzz System in manner that is unreasonable or excessive. This Fair Use Policy does not limit or reduce Customers' obligations or affect TheBuzz's rights under the General Terms and Conditions.

UNREASONABLE USE

TheBuzz has the absolute discretion to decide what constitutes unreasonable use of the TheBuzz System, however, usage will be unreasonable if the Customer:

1. uses TheBuzz's services or products:
 - a. To link two or more communication devices for the purposes of providing a permanent or semi-permanent connection or circuit;
 - b. for any purpose or function other than predominant person-to-person voice communication.
2. Limits the ability of other customers to access TheBuzz System or TheBuzz's services.

EXCESSIVE USE

The Buzz has the absolute discretion to decide what constitutes excessive usage of the TheBuzz System. If the Customer is considered an excessive or unreasonable user TheBuzz may request the Customer to reduce the Customer's usage of the TheBuzz System. If usage continues at an excessive level after such a request TheBuzz may immediately and without any prior warning or notice:

1. Charge the Customer for access to and usage of the System in accordance with TheBuzz's Schedule Of Costs And Tariffs;
2. suspend or cancel the Customer's account.

NOTE: TheBuzz reserves the right to vary this Fair Use policy in its absolute discretion at any time and for any reason. Variations take effect as and from the time and date published on TheBuzz website. A current copy of the Terms and Conditions will be available on TheBuzz website at all times. Customers must keep themselves informed about changes to this Fair Use Policy.
